

Doechii Shows What Anxiety Looks Like In Video

Watch Doechii live out true feelings of uneasiness in her video for “Anxiety.” She confronts several different triggers and manages to survive them all. Her twin sisters are in the clip that references the video for the song’s “Somebody I Used To Know” sample by Goyte, and there are extras done up in the same look as the Goyte video. Doechii originally released “Anxiety” in 2019 with a different video but the song went viral on TikTok and has a new video. Doechii continues to gain momentum in her breakout year that had her onstage with Lauryn Hill. Her tour kicks off in July to support Alligator Bites Never Heal and she just made the cover of Cosmopolitan.