

Afropunk Announces London Lineup

Afropunk has confirmed Grace Jones as the headliner for the upcoming September 24th event in London. Joining Jones will be Sza, Laura Mvula, Kwabs, The Noisettes, Loyce Carner, Goldlink, Joe Kay, The Whooligan, Hannah Faith, Eden Hagos, MNEK, Lady Leshurr, Skinny Girl Diet, Jorja Smith, Big Joanie, Nova Twins, The Connectors and Mikel Ameen. The first Afropunk London is also a homecoming for co-founder Matthew Morgan who is a native of Hackney. In addition to the music, Alexandra Palace will host a space with food vendors, artists, designers and exhibitions. Tickets are on sale here. Find out more about Afropunk London here.

Joey Bada$$ Will Go On Tour With Schoolboy Q This Fall

Joey Bada$$ will go on a tour of North America this fall with Schoolboy Q. The Brooklyn rapper made his television debut last week on the show Mr. Robot. He will join Schoolboy Q's Blank Face tour to support his new single, "Devastated." Joey will also play a show at the Highline Ballroom on July 27th with his Pro Era colleague Nyck Caution and tickets are on sale now.

Danny Brown Announces North American Tour And Album Title

Danny Brown is kicking off his North American tour in September to support his new album called Atrocity Exhibition. He has already built anticipation around his sophomore album with the Mimi Cave-directed video for “When It Rain.” Maxo Kream and ZelooperZ will support him on the tour that has its first date in Philadelphia. Tickets go on sale July 20th at his official site and they include a download of “Make It Rain” and a copy of Atrocity Exhibition.

Danny Brown Exhibition Tour Dates North America 2016

Â 9/14 Â Philadelphia, PA – Theater of the Living Arts
9/15 Â Providence, RI – Lupo’s Heartbreak Hotel
9/16 Â New Haven, CT – Toad’s Place
9/17 Â Clifton Park, NY – Upstate Concert Hall
9/18 Â Boston, MA – Paradise Rock Club
9/21 Â Columbus, OH – Park Street Saloon
9/22 Â Chicago, IL – House of Blues
9/23 Â Grand Rapids, MI – The Intersection
9/24 Â Milwaukee, WI – The Rave II
9/25 Â Minneapolis, MN – First Avenue
9/27 Â Des Moines, IA – Wooly’s
9/28 Â Lincoln, NE – Bourbon Theatre
10/1 Â Salt Lake City, UT – The Complex
10/2 Â Boise, ID – Knitting Factory
10/4 Â Seattle, WA – Neptune Theatre
10/5 Â Portland, OR – Roseland Theater
10/6 Â Vancouver, BC – Vogue Theater

10/7 Â Spokane, WA – Knitting Factory
10/8 Â Eugene, OR – WOW Hall
10/11 Â San Francisco, CA – Regency
10/12 Â Santa Cruz, CA – The Catalyst
10/14 Â San Diego, CA – Observatory North Park
10/15 Â Los Angeles, CA – The Fonda Theatre
10/16 Â Santa Ana, CA – The Observatory
10/17 Â Phoenix, AZ – Crescent Ballroom
10/18 Â Albuquerque, NM – Sunshine Theater
10/20 Â Houston, TX – Warehouse Live
10/21 Â Dallas, TX – South Side Music Hall
10/23 Â Austin, TX – Emo’s
10/25 Â New Orleans, LA – Republic New Orleans
10/26 Â Nashville, TN – Exit In 10/27 Â Atlanta, GA – Masquerade
10/28 Â Charlotte, NC – The Underground
10/29 Â Carrboro, NC – Cat’s Cradle
10/30 Â Asheville, NC – The Orange Peel
11/1 Â Silver Springs, MD – The Fillmore Silver Springs
11/2 Â Pittsburgh, PA – Mr. Small’s Theatre
11/3 Â Buffalo, NY – Town Ballroom
11/4 Â Toronto, ON – Phoenix Concert Theatre
11/5 Â Cleveland, OH – Grog Shop

Jesse Williams, Common & More To Headline Many Rivers To Cross Social Justice Festival

Jesse Williams, Common, Chris Rock and John Legend are some of the performers scheduled for the ‘Many Rivers To Cross’ Social Justice Music and Arts Festival. Harry Belafonte’s Sankofa organization is presenting the event they describe as “the biggest music and arts festival dedicated to social justice.”

The festival takes place October 1st & 2nd in Chattahoochee,
Georgia and tickets will go on sale July 29th on the Sankofa.org site.