

Sean Levert Passes

*The singing Levert family of Cleveland has lost another son and brother. Sean Levert has died.

Levert, 39, the son of R&B legend Eddie Levert and brother of Gerald Levert, who passed away in 2006, collapsed at the Cuyahoga County Jail late last night and was immediately rushed to the hospital.

The warden of the jail told TMZ.com that he died at the hospital, not the jail, which disputes other reports.

Banned Episodes Of The Boondocks Leaked Online

This season’s second “banned” episode of Adult Swim cartoon The Boondocks has leaked online, after airing in Canada.

In what was supposed to be the Season Finale, racist black character Uncle Ruckus is given a reality show on BET. The show sees Ruckus giving a tour of the mini-shrines to white people in his home, welcoming white kids onto the school bus he drives while shooing black child characters Riley and Huey away from it, and criticizing the idea of school desegregation.
