

Aeriform Arts Celebrates Three Year Anniversary With “The Elements” Student Showcase and Party

North Hollywood – It has been three years since busy television executive Lea Walker decided to moonlight as an aerial fitness studio owner. Her Aeriform Arts center has since literally taken off, with hundreds of students testing the conditioning feats of aerial hammocks, lyra, aerial yoga, hanging silks and pole dance. To celebrate her success, Aeriform Arts will present “The Elements” a student showcase and party on Saturday, November 22 from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Aeriform Arts is located at 5625 Lankershim Blvd. in North Hollywood, CA. The event is free and open to the public. Bad Kitty, the number one name in pole dance and fitness apparel, is the official event sponsor.

The evening will include performances by students as well as teachers, a special appearance by Karmagraphy, Los Angeles’ premier Bollywood fusion dance company, music, food, drinks, raffles and more. Performing instructors include Tamysen Malles on trapeze, Jane Rose on aerial hammock, Peppa Pou performing a pole dancehall piece and Candice Cane on pole.

Aerial classes at Lea Walker’s Aeriform Arts studio.

“I’m ecstatic that Aeriform Arts has solidified its presence in the aerial arts community within these three years. Our studio provides a non-judgmental, co-ed environment for everybody and body type to come and explore these wonderful skill sets. Our instructors are not only well recognized in their respective fields, they are also amazing and very supportive. Our students run the gamut of young to older, male and female, large and small. In addition to classes, we host workshops and special events at the studio,” cites Walker. “Overall, as a fitness agenda, hammock, silks, lyra and pole have leaped into mainstream awareness. They are no longer a novelty or perceived as just for performers and I believe Aeriform Arts has been instrumental in growing this awareness.”

Aeriform Arts is open daily and is located at 5625 Lankershim Blvd. in North Hollywood, CA. Fly the friendly skies at Aeriform Arts at <http://aeriformarts.com> or call 818-980-AERI (2374).

Aeriform Arts Studio Is Home to “America’s Got Talent” Contestant and Aerial Star Antonio Martinez

photo credit: Poleagraphy.com

North Hollywood, CA – As busy studio owner Lea Walker continues to raise the caliber of her dance and fitness center, Aeriform Arts, housing a community of top aerial instructors, one teacher has emerged as a real star. Antonio Martinez is giving the world a sneak peak at what Aeriform Arts’ students have experienced first hand, his the amazing aerial alchemy. The flying whiz is a current contestant on NBC-TV's "America's Got Talent" and he is wowing a national audience with his grace and skills. The aerial cirque and silks teacher, alongside his "America's Got Talent" performing partner Tavi Stutz, will perform live at Aeriform Arts' "Midsummer Flight Dreams" talent showcase on Saturday, August 24, alongside students and teachers displaying Lyra, hammock, pole and silk feats. "Midsummer Flight Dreams" will take place from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. at the Aeriform Arts studio located at 5625 Lankershim Blvd. in North Hollywood, CA.

Aeriform Arts provides an all inclusive co-ed landscape for aerial conditioning with ten aerial yoga hammocks, a lyra, hanging silks and five brass dance poles. In addition to Antonio Martinez, the studio's expansive curriculum boasts aerial hammock classes taught by Leigh Acosta and Jane Rose; pole classes taught by Veronika as well as Acosta; Judy Chuang teaching a 6-week Advance Beginner Pole Series; and the special Nail It Deep Series, taught by Niki Saccareccia and Jennifer Netherby consisting of Feet & Balance, Back Bends, Hand Stands and Splits workshops. The studio's distinct roster also includes Kristina Serna teaching BUTI as well Roseanne Nemhauser and Jane Rose demonstrating aerial yoga.

Studio owner Lea Walker practicing aerial art.

"Our initial vision was to become a one-stop shop for anyone seeking the thrill of aerial adventure and now, in less than two years, I can proudly say that we have successfully accomplished our goal. We are happy and amazed for Antonio. His television appearances are exposing the aerial world to a new and broader audience. We believe everyone can fly and we are here to teach them how!" expresses Walker.

Aeriform Arts is open daily and is located at 5625 Lankershim

Blvd. in North Hollywood, CA. Soar with Aeriform Arts at <http://aeriformarts.com> or by calling 818-980-AERI (2374).

For an online studio tour, check out Aeriform Arts as “Studio of the Month” in Pole World News:

[youtube id="dvliFqKZDyI"]