Apollo Brown “The Times” ft. Oddisee (Free Download)

Originally titled as “Tao Te Ching” from Detroit producer Apollo Brown’s recently released instrumental album Clouds, Oddisee jumps on the track delivering a remix vocal version now entitled “The Times.”

In “The Times,” Oddisee ,who is half-Sudanese (on his father’s side), passionately relates “The Times” to Southern Sudan’s recent vote to split and form a new nation.

Oddisee on the track: "Something about the mood of the beat finally made me put to words how I felt about the situation in north Africa & specifically my home country of Sudan."

Boog Brown – "Understanding" (Audible Doctor Remix)

As Boog Brown continues to support the recent release of Brown Study, between herself and renowned producer Apollo Brown, the Atlanta by way of Detroit emcee is releasing the latest remix of the album, this time for the soulful track "Understanding." Remixing the track is producer Audible Doctor, who recently produced "Battle Cry," one of the singles from Joell Ortiz's upcoming Free Agent album.

While the original features filtered string chops over muted drums, with the remix Audible Doctor chops an array of sparse vocal samples, layering them over slapping snares. “The remix brings out the vocals more,” says Boog about Audible Doctor’s beat. “It lets you hear the message in a different way.” And for a song that explores the idea of vulnerability and letting your guard down, it was important for Boog to allow fans to hear the message again, with a fresh take. “No one has to validate your journey,” says Boog. “Just make sure you’re honest with yourself.”
