

The Story Of Q-Tip With BBC Radio 1Xtra

Q-Tip tells his story to BBC Radio 1Xtra and some of the highlights are :

The original plan to have Naomi Campbell be the painted model on the cover of The Low End Theory against a white background.

Nas talking about the creation of "One Love" from Illmatic

Q-Tip meeting J.Dilla on the Lollapalooza tour via Amp Fiddler

Pharrell Williams talks about the first time he heard "Bonita Applebaum" and The Pharcyde talk about the way he made jazz important to hip-hop through his innovative sampling. Q-Tip is currently working on a TV show about the Native Tongue movement with Jonah Hill and Leonardo DiCaprio. His next solo album, The Last Zulu will be released in the winter. He's also releasing a 25th Anniversary edition of The Low End Theory, which will have unreleased music and alternate takes of songs.