

Tribute To Prince At BET Awards 2010

A wonderful recognition of Prince's contributions. Too bad Chaka didn't perform.

Usher-There Goes My Baby (Live At BET Awards 2010)

Usher performs one of the best R&B anthems of the year.

Chris Brown Tribute To Michael Jackson At BET Awards 2010

Chris Brown gives an emotional tribute to Michael Jackson. Is he crying because he misses Michael, his career or both? It's too bad that Brown has had some publicity nightmares in the past year that have hurt his career because during the performance we should've only been thinking about Michael not Brown's personal troubles. Outside of Usher Brown is the only person best suited to salute Michael and his issues were a distraction from an otherwise good show.
