

Chuck D, Bishop Lamont & Mykill Miers Collaborate On I Rap Black

Chuck D, Bishop Lamont and Mykill Miers flex their voices on “I Rap Black” from Swedish producer Max I Millions’ forthcoming Maxtape Vol.1. They critique America’s classicism, the current trend of “being woke” and police brutality. Swedish DJs Create & Devastate mixed the song and the new project. Devastate passed away last month and is remembered at the opening of the song. Maxtape Vol.1 has a release date for sometime in the fall and there are features from CL Smooth, Skyzoo, Edo G and more.

Last night the J.Dilla Rebirth Of Detroit listening party took place at the Magic Stick in Detroit. McKinley Jackson, who is the father of late rapper/hypeman Proof debuted his new band The Philanthropists of Soul. Jackson was accompanied onstage by Amp Fiddler, DJ Dez and others and they paid tribute to the memories of J.Dilla and Proof. Black Milk, Guilty Simpson, Bishop Lamont, Phat Kat and Frank Nitt all took to the stage before Waajeed ended the night with a DJ set. The Rebirth of Detroit comes out June 12th.
