

Apollo Brown & Clear Soul Forces Share Deception & Woes Video

[youtube id="ytXk9lTqsAw"]Apollo Brown and Clear Soul Forces hang out in their Detroit hometown in the video for "Deceptions & Woes." Brown's Sincerely, Detroit album has the largest number of Detroit artists assembled together on a contemporary record. The producer wanted to celebrate the talent in the city and remind the world of its unique place in music. Only time will tell if there are plans to take the music on the road. Sincerely, Detroit is out now.Â

Clear Soul Forces: Still Album Stream

Clear Soul Forces are back with their fifth release simply titled Still. The Detroit rap collective was last heard from on their 2015 Fab Five album. Still is another collection ofÂ their boom-bap inspired songs group member Noveliss says,

"Everyone's growth has made the creative process easier Now, we and the world know what's up, and it's all about bouncing off each other and being a unit on every song."

Ilajide who is also a member of CSF produced the majority of the songs from Still.Â The group has also unveiled the video for "Hit Me Now":Â

[youtube id="6jqMw5Ez5m4"]

Stream Still:Â

Clear Soul Forces And Boog Brown-Sound Of The City Produced By Black Milk

[youtube id="K6dz13CJjx8"]

Detroit rappers Boog Brown and Clear Soul Forces reckon with a Black Milk Beat and create "Sound Of The City." The song is from their upcoming mixtape #TheJoint. The project will be released February 3rd and you can go to their site and sign-up for a free copy.

Apollo Brown Detroit Cypher feat. Rass Kass, Red Pill, MarvWon, Miz Korona & Noveliss

[youtube id="N7_0Pzz4G6w"]

Detroit producer Apollo Brown pulled some of his hometown rappers together one night including Miz Korona, Noveliss of Clear Soul Forces, MarvWon and Red Pill with west coast legend Rass Kass one night in the D and arranged this cypher videotaped by Jay Brown. There is no word yet on if the recording of the gathering will be for sale.