

Phat Kat's J.Dilla-Produced Dedication To The Suckers Re-Released

Phat Kat's Dedication To The Suckers has been remastered and re-released via The Netherlands Below System Records. The digital version is available now and the vinyl edition will come out soon. J.Dilla produced all six of the tracks on the 1999 EP. Phat Kat revealed in an interview that he and Dilla completed the EP in three hours one night. Agor produced the 2015 Re-Dedication To The Suckers, which features Guilty Simpson and Elzhi. That release's US and European digital versions will be available on September 29th. The vinyl copies of the EP will have Dedication To the Suckers on the A-side and the Re-Dedication of the Suckers (U.S. version) on the B-side.

Dedication To The Suckers & Re-Dedication To The Suckers by Phat Kat

Elzhi, Rass Kass, M-Dot & Large Professor Collaborate On Reganomics

Elzhi, Rass Kass, Large Professor and M-Dot relive the '80s with the B Leafs-produced "Reganomics." Together they remember Reagan's economic policies that favored corporations and short-changed the average American. The song is from B Leaf's

The Horizon album coming out January 29th.Â

Chris Dave: Destiny N Stereo Feat. Elzhi, Phonte & Eric Roberson

Chris Dave collaborates with Elzhi, Phonte and Eric Roberson on “Destiny N Stereo.” Dave is one of the greatestÂ drummers of his generation and has worked with Adele, D’Angelo, Robert Glasper and many others. Next month he will release the first album from his Chris Dave And The Drumhedz band. “Destiny N Stereo” lives in the spirit of Guru’s Jazzmatazz pulling hip-hop, R&B and jazz into a contemporary sleeve.

Elzhi-February Official Video

[youtube id=”8ZTcta21Dh0”] Elzhi pays tribute to his mentor and friend, J.Dilla in the video for “February.” J.Dilla’s birthday and death day is in February and Elzhi’s memory of the time isÂ a gloomyÂ scene played out in bed, on the field playing football, drinking and cuddling with a girlfriend. Elzhi’s Lead Poison comes out March 25th.