

Fabian Secon Shares New Single Blood Kisses

U.K.-based R&B artist Fabian Secon shares his latest single "Blood Kisses" following the recently-released "Haze." "Blood Kisses" is brooding and submerged beneath a low rumbling trap beat as his vocals are surrounded by static that mimicks AM Radio. He calls his style punk trap and it sounds like a descendant of horrorcore. Fabian released his debut EP Don't Disturb last year and his audience continues to grow on his side of the water and in the United States. He is getting ready for his first international and the dates will be announced soon.
