

Grand Opus: The Season Album Stream

Grand Opus have released their third album The Season. Producer Centric and MC Joc Scholar haven't let the pandemic stop their creative pursuits. They set a nocturnal mood with laidback boom-bap beats and lyrics about culture, time, family and their California origins. The Season comes two years after their last album High Power. They will release the first video from the album on October 9th and this will also be the day it will be available beyond the Bandcamp platform.Â
