

Moonchild Posts Video For Not Sorry Feat Jill Scott & Rapsody

Moonchild's new self-preservation anthem, "Not Sorry," has guest appearances from Jill Scott and Rapsody. Lead singer Amber Navran tells the offender that she is not responsible for the mess but she is accountable for her own peace of mind. Navran makes the release of toxic people sound easy and almost fun. Her low, breathy tone defuses the hard edges of her message but Scott and Rapsody do their part to remind everyone that it's not wrong to claim and protect your space. "Not Sorry" is a welcomed return for Moonchild, who released Starfruit three years ago and the Reflections EP in 2023. The collaboration is the first single from their 2026 album.

Allen Iverson Executive Produces Bad Things Happen In Philadelphia Documentary Hear The Legacy Re-Mix features Jill Scott, Da'T.R.U.T.H., Greg Cox & Adam Blackstone

From The Soundtrack

Allen Iverson has executive-produced the documentary Bad Things Happen In Philadelphia. Kyra Knox is the director of the feature that looks at gun violence in the city from the perspective of young people and community members. The film's title is a response to Donald Trump's quote, "Bad Things Happen In Philadelphia. Bad Things" from the first 2020 Presidential debate. Knox wanted to show how Philadelphia's people encourage their communities through grassroots work, challenging the stereotype of being criminals and victims. Garry Mills who mentors young people through his non-profit Shoot Basketballs NOT People, says, "Less Excuses. More Adjustments. This film is a reflection of the commitment to making dark inner-city communities bright again and displays my GOD-given gift to uplift and be a guardian angel to the youth." The documentary has been shown at various film festivals and won multiple awards. "Legacy Re-Mix" is from the soundtrack, featuring rapper Da'T.R.U.T.H., Jill Scott, Greg Cox, and Adam Blackstone. Shanachie Records will release the soundtrack on December 1st. Bad Things Happen In Philadelphia will premiere at the Philadelphia Film Festival on October 28th. Fox Soul and Prime Video will have the national broadcast premiere on December 1st.

Media Questions Of The Week

We are pleased that @halleberry listened to the concerns of transgender people and learned from them. Other powerful people should do the same. A good place to start is by watching @Disclosure_Doc to learn about trans representation in media. <https://t.co/SAxSvXxbk3>

– GLAAD (@glaad) July 7, 2020

Should Halle Berry have changed her mind about playing a transgender role?Â

https://www.instagram.com/tv/CByptuTHTmV/?utm_source=ig_embed

Is Jill Scott right that plantations remade into resorts are on par with a bed and breakfast at Auschwitz?Â

Who called Sza the “Queen Of R&B?”

Common Shares Fatherhood Journey In Video For Show Me That You Love Feat. Jill Scott & Samora Pinderhughes

[youtube id="Z_Kae_LaQ1g"]Common gets deeply personal for “Show Me That You Love” featuring Jill Scott and Samora Pinderhughes. In the video he shares moments from his fatherhood journey with daughter Omoye who also stars in the clip.Â A video of them playing together during his Electric Circus is added to the visual.Â “Show Me That You Love” is on Common’s forthcoming Let Love due August 30th.Â