

Junglepussey Drops New Single They Know

Junglepussey by
Paolo M Testa

Junglepussey released her JP3 album earlier this year and just recently shared the video for “All Of You.” Today she reveals her new single “They Know” and she brags about her irresistible appeal to the opposite sex over steamy pulsation provided by longtime producer Shy Guy. It’s been a good year for JP with the release of JP3 and her movie debut in Andrew Bujalski’s Support The Girls alongside Regina Hall and Haley Lu Richardson. JP just kicked off her North American Tour. Listen to “They Know” and see below if the Brooklyn rapper is scheduled to perform in your city.

She will kick off a tour of North America in September that will take her through 18 cities. Support The Girls, in which she has her first film role, opens in theaters August 24th.
