

KRS-One & Greenie-Real Terrorism

[vimeo]28509596[/vimeo]

Last year KRS-One executive produced an album for a rapper named Greenie who was his apprentice. The results were a 14 track album, It's All Good that included the song "Real Terrorism." Both men took turns on the mic to criticize the western definition of terrorism by mentioning several historical acts of aggression by the United States against various countries around the world. Youtube banned the video clip which is not unusual considering Google's issues with censorship in the past. They made sure to post the video to the internet just in time for the tenth anniversary of September 11th.
