MP3: Rah Digga – Straight Spittin' 4.5 Prod. By Marco Polo

Just in time for the long weekend, Newark, New Jersey's own Rah Digga is back with the latest in her Straight Spittin' series, "Straight Spittin' 4.5." While Nottz handled production duties on the previous "Straight Spittin IV," in addition to the rest of Digga's highly lauded sophomore album

Classic, Digga has teamed up with producer Marco Polo for this short but deadly follow-up track. Atop Marco's guitar plucks, vocal samples, strings, and pounding drums, Digga picks up right where she left off, delivering a non-stop flow of vocal jabs with lines like, "The spitting's comprehensive/ Y'all wordplay's senseless/ I'm spitting every sentence, not knowing where the end is/ I'm spitting, spitting, spitting, 'till there ain't no more remnants/ They saying, What's Next? I'm saying, Back to the beginning."

Marco Polo & Ruste Juxx Set The eXXecution

Marco Polo & Ruste Juxx have combined forces to bring fans a serious dose of hardcore Hip Hop. The eXXecution is entirely produced by Marco Polo with Ruste Juxx providing gut-wrenching vocals over heavy hitting drums.

Marco Polo explains that a "simple studio session to play beats turned into Ruste Juxx recording 9 songs. The joints came out so crazy that we said let's turn this into a full-length album. Working with Duck Down all these years it was only a matter of time before Juxx and I got to a specific project. The best part is the work happened organically. Nothing was forced. Ruste came through, heard beats, wrote, recorded...done deal. March 23rd is The eXXecution!"

The album, which has been finalized features Sean Price, Black Moon (Buckshot, 5FT & DJ Evil Dee), Rock of Heltah Skeltah, DJ Revolution, and Freddie Foxxx.

Ruste Juxx describes the album as "straight eXXecuting. I'm killing off wack MCs and Marco's murdering the producers. I couldn't help but to write some killer shit to the beats Marco made. If I wrote something wack to his production, then it's a wasted beat. I can't have that! "
