

Listen: Miguel's Song Vote From Crazy Rich Asians Soundtrack

[youtube id="lvShzfAd5SE"]Miguel's "Vote" is produced by Mark Ronson and Hudson Mohawke and will appear on the soundtrack for the film Crazy Rich Asians. The raucous sound is only mellowed out by Miguel's soulful delivery. "Vote" comes shortly after Miguel shared "Python" and a cover of The Red Hot Chili Peppers' "Porcelain." Crazy Rich Asians, which is being recognized as the first mainstream film since 1993's Joy Luck Club with a mainly Asian cast, opened in nationwide theaters today.

---

Media Questions Of The Week

[youtube id="LTKHYS4nWHk"] Was Elton John hating on Janet Jackson by claiming that she was lip-synched at the first stop in Dubai on her Unbreakable tour?

Will Melissa Harris-Perry return to MSNBC after walking off her show because she says the show was silenced during the presidential election or does she have another job?

Did Mark Ronson use The Sequence's "Funk You Up" as inspiration for "Uptown Funk?" Â [youtube id="0Pf0YbXqDm0"]

[youtube id="F_gF1v1xZDc"]

---

Mark Ronson & Bruno Mars Talk To Ellen

[youtube id="vQN8bWqL2KE"]

Mark Ronson and Bruno Mars appeared on Ellen and discussed Ronson's Uptown Special that came out this week and Mars's new album.

---

Mark Ronson & The Business Int'l – Somebody To Love Me (feat. Boy George)

[onsmash]U6CZdwrvpfDripU6[/onsmash]

Mark Ronson enlisted '80's gender bender Boy George for this song and throwback video. Record Collection is out now.