

Mahogany Jones Is Back With Go

Mahogany Jones is back with her latest single “Go.” Jones raps with the pace of a runner winning a personal race. The classic house production is made for dancing and Jones has the lyrical authority of the coolest motivational speaker. Monica Blaire adds a layer of soul to the first Ma$terpeace remixes. Crown and Chelsea Reject are featured on the second Ma$terpeace Remix and compliment Jones with additional quick verses. “Go” is made for the party, workout room, and anytime doubt ends up in the equation. It was two years ago when Jones released the palpable Better. “Go” is a delightful return from the Detroit emcee.

Under The Detroit Moon (Commercial)

[youtube]NH3UBxp5ceI&[/youtube]

Dwele, Monica Blaire and Ron Dance have found a creative way to advertise their upcoming gig at the Charles H. Wright Museum in Detroit on December 28th.

Black Women Rock!

[youtube]HVb-JwQICl8[/youtube]

[youtube]zerGECHpyUc[/youtube]

[youtube]Dqy7S50ZzSY[/youtube]

[youtube]N5KPeCzMwCY[/youtube]

Last night poet extraordinaire Jessica Care Moore brought her Black Women Rock Orchestra to Detroit’s Hart Plaza. She performed along with Afro-Punk queen Tamar-kali, Steffanie Christian and a line-up that would make Jimi proud.