

Paris Texas Debut Wim Wenders-Inspired Video For Girls Like Drugs

Los Angeles rap duo Paris Texas drop their Wim Wenders-influenced video for “Girls Like Drugs.” Louie Pastel and Felix reenact the peep show scene from Wenders’ 1984 film Paris Texas. The wild scenario fits the afro-punk vibe of the new song. They had teased fans on their social media accounts about new music to follow their Boy Anonymous EP released earlier this year. The rap rock blend of “Girls Like Drugs” has N.E.R.D. in its DNA. Next month they are headlining shows in New York, Los Angeles and London. In Spring 2022 they will open for BROCKHAMPTON on a full tour of North America.Â
