

Radiant Children Announce There's Only Being Yourself Debut Album

Radiant Children by HÃ©lÃ¨ne Feuillebois

Radiant Children announce their debut album There's Only Being Yourself today. The trio has also shared their new single "Rare" which gives a preview of the album and offers more of their hip-hop and jazz-patterned R&B. "Rare" comes at the same time as the group's TRYIN FM radio station posts up its first episode on YouTube. They say the live channel will let fans see inside their first album and will provide "Tunes for the Anxious Generation."

There's Only Being Yourself comes out on November 18th.

Radiant Children Give Another Album Preview With Mariposa

Radiant Children by HÃ©lÃ¨ne Feuillebois

Radiant Children share another song from their forthcoming debut album with the punchy "Mariposa." The trio explain, "Mariposa is about transition and the ability to change/evolve... our mental migration patterns are what allows us to grow and tap into new energy sources once thought not available to us. Mariposa. An ode to self-care, Mariposa! Don't you be ashamed to take the day to treat you nice! Fly, RC" The band released "Sky Mind" back in May as they get closer to the October date for the availability of the album. The band has been growing their fanbase since their music was featured on HBO's Insecure and their first EP TRYIN' came out in 2018. [youtube id="bVV0UCX3Dck"]

Radiant Children Return With Sky Mind

London trio Radiant Children return with a new song "Sky Mind." The group emerged in 2018 with their debut EP TRYIN'. Their pop and jazz sensibilities got a boost of visibility when Issa Rae used "Life's A Bitch" and "Go Left" in the first season of her HBO show Insecure. "Sky Mind" comes out before the release of their debut album later this year.Â
