Megan Thee Stallion will make her Saturday Night Live debut on October 3rd with comedian Chris Rock as the host. The Houston native is having her best year yet having just made the cover of Time magazine and their annual Time100 list of the 100 most influential people in the world. She has been nominated for Top Rap Female at the Billboard Music Awards 2020 coming off her second global hit of 2020, the “WAP” collaboration with Cardi B. The year started with the release of her Suga EP and the viral “Savage” remix featuring Beyoncé. The success of “Savage” was her first number one hit and inspired the

TikTok #SavageChallenge. The rapper also became a brand ambassador for Revlon, Coach, SavageXFenty and FashionNova.Â

Eddie Murphy Returns To SNL This Week

[youtube id="LHexHNaSRHM"]Eddie Murphy returns to Saturday Night Live this weekend as the host and he will also revisit some of his old characters. Murphy revived the show in the '80s as a young comedian before he left to become a movie star. It's been 35 years since he was the host and this appearance is part of a full circle for his career. The promo shows Murphy walking through the building wearing the same kind of outfit he wore when he first appeared on the show. Lizzo, who is this week's musical guest, can be heard in the background as her song "Cuz I Love You" plays.Â

Donald Glover Will Host And Perform On SNL

Donald Glover will host and perform on Saturday Night Live May 5th. His Childish Gambino persona, that he promised to retire will take the stage. The appearance on SNL takes Glover back to the beginning of his career when he was a member of the Derrick Comedy group that performed sketch comedy on the internet.Â The actor and musician returned to television for the second season of his FX show Atlanta last month. It is another big year for Glover as he was just seen in the trailer for Solo: A Star Wars Story which has a May 25th release date. He is also the voice of Simba in the remake of The Lion King.
