

2012 SESAC Pop Music Awards

Jacob Luttrell; Bryan-Michael
Cox; Usher; Rico Love

NEW YORK, NY (May 11, 2012) – Last night, SESAC, the nation's fastest growing performing rights organization, awarded Rico Love with top honors at the 16th Annual SESAC Pop Music Awards when he was named Songwriter of the Year, at NYC's Skylight Soho. Multi-platinum superstar Usher made a surprise appearance at the awards to present his friend and collaborator Love with the prestigious award.

Songwriter Jacob Luttrell captured Song of the Year honors for smash hit, "Tonight (I'm Lovin' You)" as recorded by Enrique Iglesias.

SESAC Publisher of the Year honors went to EMI Foray Music.

Love has enjoyed an extraordinary year by anyone's estimation. One of pop music's most prolific and diverse creative talents, Love hit the top of the charts in the last couple of years with "There Goes My Baby" and "Hey Daddy (Daddy's Home)" by Usher (featuring Plies) as well as "Just A Dream" by Nelly and "Hello Good Morning" (co-written with fellow SESAC hit-maker Nate "Danja" Hills) and recorded by Diddy-Dirty Money (featuring T.I. and Rick Ross) and "Sweet Dreams" by Beyonce. The past year proved to be another successful one for the busy songwriter/producer as he again ruled the charts with "Motivation" (by Kelly Rowland) and "Without You" (by David Guetta featuring Usher).

Pop/ R&B songstress Melanie Fiona delivered a soulful version of her current single, "4:00 am," a song written by Rico Love.

One of the evening's many highlights was the Inspiration Award presentation to Grammy Award-winning songwriter and producer, Bryan-Michael Cox in recognition of his artistic, entrepreneurial and philanthropic contributions. In a short amount of time, Cox has established himself as one of music's most gifted and prolific music-makers. Since hitting the music scene he has made a major impact with his songwriting and producing skills on such hits as Mariah Carey's "Don't Forget About Us", Usher's "Burn", "You Got It Bad" and "Confessions Pt. 2" and took home a Grammy Award for his work on Mary J. Blige's "Be Without You." Currently, Cox has projects in the works with such superstars as Mariah Carey, Brandy, Monica and Babyface. Cox is also working with songwriting/producing giant Rico Love on projects for Kelly Rowland, Tierra Mari and Trey Songz.

SESAC President/COO, Pata noted humanitarian, Cox has Collins; SESAC Chairman observed on the advisory board of the Board/CEO, Stephen Swid; 100 Urban Entrepreneurs, a non-SESAC Senior VP, profit organization that helps Writer/Publisher Relations, identify, finance and mentor Trevor Gale; Music Executive, entrepreneurs from economically Sylvia Rhone; Rico Love; disadvantaged communities – often Melanie Fiona through live business-pitch events in cities across the United States – in order to highlight the urban community's untapped business potential and demonstrate, to an additional 1 million-plus entrepreneurs, a proven path forward to business and financial success. Bryan tours the country serving as a judge at these live pitch events and ultimately acts as a mentor to the program's participants. In addition, Bryan works with The Travis Best Foundation, a non-profit founded by former NBA player Travis Best that helps underserved youth through arts and athletics. Each year, Bryan dedicates a weekend in Springfield Massachusetts during The Basketball Hall of Fame Enshrinement Weekend where he works hands on with youth that have an interest in songwriting and production. Bryan hosts workshops where he tutors kids ages 13 – 17 in music production, songwriting, music business and publishing.

Sylvia Rhone, Universal Motown Records President, Presenting Songwriter of the Year Award at 2011 SESAC Awards – May 11 NYC

April 27, 2011 – New York, NY – SESAC, the nation's most progressive and fastest growing performing rights organization, announced today that Sylvia Rhone, President of Universal Motown, will present the Songwriter of the Year Award at the 2011 SESAC New York Music Awards. Rhone, one of the music industry's most recognized and renowned music executives, is well known for her longtime support and appreciation for artists and songwriters.

The 2011 SESAC New York Music Awards, set to take place Wednesday, May 11 at New York City's chic IAC Building, will honor the top songwriters and publishers of the most popular songs from 2010 with special awards being presented to the Songwriter of the Year, Song of the Year and Publisher of the Year.

The invitation-only, red carpet gala event has established itself as one of the most popular music gatherings in the business. Each year the star studded evening features special performances from some of entertainment's top hit-makers with attendees including some of the biggest names in music. Previously, SESAC has presented awards to some of the industry's top hit makers including Bob Dylan, MGMT, Neil Diamond, Alice In Chains, Chrisette Michele, Bryan-Michael Cox, Kasseem "Swizz Beatz" Dean, Nate "Danja" Hills and Lady Antebellum.

In 2010, songwriter/producer/ artist Swizz Beatz was presented with the Inspiration Award by entrepreneur and humanitarian Russell Simmons in recognition of his philanthropic endeavors, particularly his work for Haiti relief. Nate "Danja" Hills was also on hand last year to accept top honors for Songwriter and Song of the Year for a multitude of hits including "Knock You Down" by Keri Hilson and "Sober" by Pink.

Special performances and guests to be announced shortly.
