

The Smithsonian Anthology Of Hip-Hop And Rap Has A Kickstarter Campaign

The National Museum of African-American History and Culture is working with Smithsonian Folkways Recordings to create the Smithsonian Anthology Of Hip-Hop and Rap. The project includes nine CDs, a 300-page book and an exclusive 9th Wonder remix of the Smithsonian Folkways catalog. Chuck D and MC Lyte explain the scope of the project in the above video and how fans can offer their support via Kickstarter. The campaign seeks to raise $250,000 within the remaining 28 days. Supporters can get everything from postcards to a tour of the museum with Questlove. Visit the Kickstarter page for more details.
