

Media Questions Of The Week

[youtube id="ifEXVtCabWQ"] Will any edits be done to the police's bodycam footage of the Keith Lamont Scott killing in Charlotte, North Carolina?

How did The Emmy's mistaken Terrence Howard for Cuba Gooding Jr.?

Did the 11th Circuit Court make the right ruling when it decided that it is not discriminatory for an employer to ask an employee to remove their dreadlocks as a condition for employment?

---

Trailer For This Week's Episode Of Empire

[youtube id="hvVW5MYlEDlU"]

This is the trailer for this week's episode of Fox's Empire television show starring Taraji P. Henson and Terrence Howard. "The Devil Quotes Scripture" is the name of the episode from the show that debuted two weeks ago with almost 10 million viewers. Howard is a successful record executive from the streets has 3 years to live after an ALS diagnosis and groom one of his three sons to take over his Empire. Things get complicated when his ex-wife played by Henson returns from a long prison sentence with her own ideas about their children and his empire started with her drug money. Cuba Gooding Jr. is being added to the cast this week and there's also an appearance from Naomi Campbell. Empire airs Wednesday nights on Fox at 9PM EST.

---

Media Questions Of The Week

1. Why did The Dream remake Aaliyah's "One In A Million?" Didn't he know that if he just one little thing wrong the fans would be angered?

2. Is Terrence Howard going to play Marvin Gaye? If so, Why?

3. Why did Chris Brown make colorism jokes about Sandra Rose? Doesn't he know that his image is forever under scrutiny? But doesn't he also know that he has people in his family lineage that look like Sandra Rose and that he has fans that look like Sandra Rose? Does he not know what colorism is?

4. Why was Justin Bieber nominated for Best New Artist at the BET Awards?

5. Why was Monica excluded from nominations for Best Female R&B artist?

6. How did Wale not know that the Black Pride event in his native D.C. that he agreed to perform at was not a gay event?

---

Media Questions Of The Week

1. Is Terrence Howard the best person to play Nelson Mandela opposite Jennifer Holiday?

2. Although it happened two weeks ago isn't it funny that Prince avoided Glenn Beck, Sarah Palin, Bill Clinton and Taylor Swift at the Time 100 Gala in New York?

3. Now that Mr.Scarface is angry with VH-1 for pigeonholing his music and the hip-hop museum in the Bronx is not supported by the pioneers when will these pioneers create their own awards ceremony and museum?