

Author Terry E. Hill Says Vote “The Committee” Relaunches Novel about The First Black Female President With a Twitter Election Campaign & Book Trailer

[youtube id="6gR30rWmzXQ"]

San Francisco – When bestselling author Terry E. Hill initially released his political stunner “The Committee” on Urban Renaissance, an imprint of Kensington Publishing Corp., late last year, the idea of a female presidential candidate was still just a possibility and not a reality. Now almost eight months later, Hillary Clinton is the first female presidential nominee for a major U.S. political party. With current headlines surrounding the campaign reeking of scandal, controversy and devious manipulations, Hill knew it was time to reintroduce his work to book lovers.

“The Committee” is an enthralling tale that reveals the behind the scenes circumstances surrounding the making of the first Black female president. Though written as a fiction, considering the current political landscape, readers will wonder how far from the truth the book actually is. Hill has released a new trailer to promote “The Committee” and is launching a social media campaign to heighten awareness of this captivating tale.

Hill will tweet tantalizing teaser tidbits from “The Committee” starting Saturday, September 3 through Monday, September 5 during Labor Day weekend in a “Vote The Committee Twitter Election Campaign.” Highlighting the twists, turns and turmoil from the book that almost mirror current real life headlines, Hill will tag each passage with the hashtag #VoteTheCommittee and invite tweeters to repost the passage, adding their own political hashtags.Â Three readers with the most retweets will each win a personally autographed copy of "The Committee." The campaign will be promoted on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/terry.e.hill.9?fref=ts> as well on the author's page at www.terryehill.com .

"The Committee" twirls Illuminati conspiracy, New Orleans voodoo, American politics and a gay affair subplot mixing a delicious blend of characters in a series of synchronized occurrences. The newly released book trailer for "The Committee," atÂ <https://youtu.be/6gR30rWmzXQ>, is produced by Markus Watson, the production genius behind Your Video Ninja (www.yourvideoninja.com). The production vividly portrays the key highlights from the read and adds a sense of riveting potency to the overall literary experience.

"As a writer," cites Hill, "I am particularly excited about the new book trailer. I ultimately envision 'The Committee' as a major motion film and the trailer beckons that reality. Markus Watson captures the excitement of my book in 85 succinct seconds! I'm almost compelled to reread my own work!" In "The Committee," Camille Ernestine Hardaway is the first African American female mayor of Los Angeles and she has it all – stunning good looks, power, a seemingly devoted husband and influential allies. 'The Committee' has decided that she will be the first Black female President of the United States and will stop at nothing to ensure their rising candidate reaches the White House.

	 Author Terry E. Hill

Author Terry E. Hill works hypnosis with the written word as he winds the reader deeper down a sinister rabbit hole with each chapter. "The Committee's" lethal combination of drama, intimidation, mysticism and murder make for a most intoxicating political thriller, especially when we find out that the secret society behind the country's biggest political figures is a mysterious New Orleans family of Creole women who have headed 'The Committee' for over 150 years. It is they who in fact control the men mistaken to be the country's power brokers.

'The Committee' has selected every US president since James Monroe and controls much of the country's economy. When they make the decision that the United States is not only ready for a Black woman president, but also select her, the phrase, 'hell hath no fury like a woman scorned' takes on new and insidious meaning.

"The Committee" is Hill's fourth novel. "Come Sunday Morning" was his first book, followed by "When Sunday Comes Again" in 2012 and "The Last Sunday" in 2013. The publisher consolidated Hill's first two books into one and re-released it in 2014 as "The Come Sunday Morning Saga." Hill's novels have been selected as "must-reads" by BET.com and "best books of the year" by various bookstores and book clubs throughout the country. "The Come Sunday Morning Saga" has been acquired by more than 10,000 libraries in the U.S., Europe, Australia and New Zealand.

Hill has developed a significant and very loyal audience who eagerly await each new release. Elev8.com, an online property of Hello Beautiful, profiled the author as the next E. Lynn Harris for his clever storytelling and LGBT subplots. Hill's writings are amazing works of fiction that continuously stir conversation on important topics nationwide.

Purchase "The Committee" on Amazon.com and wherever books are sold. Visit the author's website at <http://www.terryehill.com/>

Follow Terry E. Hill on Twitter at @MrTerryEHill and on Facebook at Terry E. Hill and #VoteTheCommittee now!

“The Committee” Selects a Black Female President in Bestselling Author Terry E. Hill’s New Release

San Francisco – With Come Sunday Morning, When Sunday Comes Again and The Last Sunday, author Terry E. Hill has proven himself an adept story weaver. Enthralling his readers with a trilogy based inside a megachurch setting, his well-spun plots of scandal, suspense and seduction were delivered with acute precision. Skillfully whipping his readers into a page-turning frenzy, they rushed to keep abreast of characters bigger than the books that encased them. With the release of The Committee on Urban Renaissance, an imprint of Kensington Publishing Corp., the author ups the ante and moves into the world of politics.

The Committee is a beguiling tale that twirls Illuminati conspiracy, New Orleans voodoo, American politics and a subplot gay affair in a delicious twist of turbulence and turmoil. We find out that the secret society behind the country’s biggest political ploys is a mysterious New Orleans family of Creole women who head “The Committee.” It is they who in fact control the white men mistaken to be the country’s power figures! “The Committee” has selected every US president since James Monroe and controls much of the country’s economy. When they make the decision that the United States is not only ready for a Black woman president, but also select her, the phrase, ‘hell hath no fury like a woman scorned’ takes on new and insidious meaning.

Camille Ernestine Hardaway is the first African American female mayor of Los Angeles and she has it all – stunning good looks, power, a seemingly devoted husband and influential allies. “The Committee” has decided that she will be the first Black female President of the United States and will stop at nothing to ensure their rising candidate reaches the White House. Author Terry E. Hill sublimely works hypnosis with the written word as he winds the reader deeper down a sinister black hole with each chapter. The Committee's lethal combination of manipulation, intimidation, mysticism and murder make for the most intoxicating political thriller. With an adoring fan base waiting in high anticipation, Hill is hosting a Facebook contest. The author (on Facebook at Terry E. Hill) will give away 25 autographed copies of The Committee to the lucky winner. The contest ends at midnight on Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, Monday, January 18th. Participants can find more details on The Committee's Facebook page and / or enter on his Facebook page.

The Committee is Hill's fourth novel. Come Sunday Morning was his first book, followed by When Sunday Comes Again in 2012 and The Last Sunday in 2013. The publisher consolidated Hill's first two books into one and re-released it 2014 as The Come Sunday Morning Saga. Come Sunday Morning was selected as number three of the five best fiction books for 2012 by the Sankofa Literary Society. When Sunday Comes Again was released in the summer of 2012 and made the AALBC (African American Literary Book Club) Urban Fiction Best Seller List. Hill's novels have also been featured on the Bestsellers List of Black Expressions and have been selected as best books of the month and year by various bookstores and book clubs throughout the country. The Sunday Morning Saga has been acquired by more than 10,000 libraries in the U.S., Europe, Australia and New Zealand.

Hill has developed a significant and very loyal audience who eagerly await each new release. Elev8.com, an online property of Hello Beautiful, profiled the author as the next E. Lynn Harris for his clever storytelling and LGBT subplots. He and his writings have been featured on BET.com's monthly YOU GOTTA HAVE IT column, Crème Magazine, Elev8/Hello Beautiful, Black Literature Magazine and The Literary Network.

Hill's writings are amazing works of fiction that continuously stir conversation on important topics nationwide.Â Purchase The Committee on Amazon.com and wherever books are sold. Visit the author's website atÂ <http://www.terryehill.com/> . Follow Terry E. Hill on Facebook at Terry E. Hill and #ReadTheCommittee now!