

THEY: Fireside EP Stream

THEY deliver their Fireside EP of six songs that move through multiple genres and settle into carefree moments of progressive exploration. A group of feature appearances from Wiz Khalifa, Jessie Reyez, Vic Mensa and more add another layer of flavor to their sound. Fireside is their next project to come after the duo's 2017 N<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> Religion debut album.

---

THEY.: What I Know Now Feat. Wiz Khalifa

THEY and Wiz Khalifa have gotten together and recorded the R&B duo's new single "What I Know Now." The wisdom learned from past relationships is sung about with a coolness that Khalifa compliments with his equally laidback delivery. Heartbreak never sounded so freeing among the guitars and trap beat. "What I Know Now" is a lead into their Fireside EP coming out in November. The Los Angeles-based musical partners released their N<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> Religion: Hyena album in 2017.

[youtube id="9cD84cU7hcE"]

---

THEY. Release Official Video For Deep End

[youtube id="KWq0J44nTxk"] Los Angeles R&B/Grunge duo THEY. drop the video for "Deep End" from their NÃ¼ Religion: Hyena debut album. The night time setting is a match for their sound which has pieces of New Edition, Chris Brown and grunge in it. The twosome is touring the states right now and will have a performance at this year's Made In America Festival.

---

THEY: NÃ¼ Religion: Hyena Album Stream

Dante and Drew are Los Angeles duo THEY and NÃ¼ Religion: Hyena is their first album. The songwriters have had success individually working for Chris Brown and Kelly Clarkson among the other artists on their resumes. NÃ¼ Religion: Hyena follows the three-song EP of the same name. The full-length is influenced by rock, hip-hop and R&B. The NÃ¼ Religion tour starts on March 7th and tickets are on sale now.