Apple In Talks To Buy Tidal

According to the Wall Street Journal, Apple wants to buy Jay-Z's Tidal streaming service. Jay-Z launched Tidal last year with the support of high profile artists like Jack White and Kanye West. Tidal scored a huge advantage over their competition when they acquired exclusive streaming rights to Prince's music. The service offers artists greater profits because their music can only be heard via a paid subscription versus a service like Spotify which has free streaming as one option for subscribers. Read the whole article here.

Media Questions Of The Week

How did Prince die?

Will Prince's death make Tidal the top streaming choice because they have exclusive rights to his catalog?

[youtube id="xQDJ_y-Ll84"]

How much music is in Prince's vault, who will have control over it and how much of it will be released?

Dear @mtv, @Prince is not Will Smith. Why are you playing Fresh Prince in this #Prince tribute. #fail

pic.twitter.com/bh8NwpKa3r

- TT (@temisol) April 21, 2016

How did MTV make the mistake of playing a Fresh Prince & Jazzy Jeff video at the start of their tribute to Prince?

Ms. Lauryn Hill & Tidal X Present Diaspora Calling! Music Event Tonight

×

Ms. Lauryn Hill and Tidal X are presenting their Diaspora Calling! event tonight at the Kings Theatre in Brooklyn, New York. The event begins tonight and ends on Friday the 15th and it is an exhibition of various forms of visual art from artists around the African diaspora. The lobby of the theatre will be transformed into an art gallery with a concentration of works from Haitian artists.

Hill states:Â "Diaspora Calling! is a collection of works intended to celebrate the rich tapestry of artists from the African Diaspora while also illumining persistent and irrepressible themes... Even if we work independently, we are a resounding collective voice, both reconciling and embracing our relationship to history, our origins, our future and to ourselves."

At tonight's opening, there will be music from DJ Spinna, DJ Juls and more. The gallery will be open to the public April 14th and April 15th 12-4PM. Ms. Hill curated the gallery with the help of MoCADA, Nader Haitian Art, and The Haiti Cultural Exchange.Â

Hill is turning her sold-out concert Friday night into the first inaugural Diaspora Calling! Music Festival. Ms. Hill will headline the show, which will also feature performances from Machel Montano (Trinidad), Stephen 'Ragga' Marley (Jamaica), Stonebwoy (Ghana), Mr. Eazi (Nigeria), EL (Ghana), Wondaboy (Nigeria), JoJo Abot (Ghana), and Paul Bearbrun (Haiti).Â

Friday's Diaspora Calling! Music Festival will be live streamed pre-paywall for fans and TIDAL subscribers alike on tidal.com

For set times and more information, go to Â MsLaurynHill.com.

Tidal 10/20 Live Stream

Jay-Z and friends are in Brooklyn at the Barclays center right now celebrating one million Tidal subscribers. Stream the concert for free that features people like Prince, Lil Wayne, Nick Jonas, Damian Marley and more.